James Waltham – Chocolate Taster

Whenever I tell people what I do for a living, they can hardly believe this job exists. But I'm not joking! I spend my days at work eating chocolate! Tasting the chocolate is an essential part of making sure that customers get perfect bars of high-quality chocolate from the company I work for.

Every week I receive samples*, small amounts that show what the chocolate is like, from our factory and I have to check them for taste, texture and smell. I also have to taste the raw materials we usually use – the nuts, fruit and so on. I spend days choosing the most suitable ones to go into the chocolate.

Just beside my company office I have a kitchen where I can test and taste products I make – and I keep my colleagues happy by giving them samples! My kitchen is full of machines and ingredients to play with. It's wonderful to have a private space I can go off to during the day.

No two days are the same in this job. Sometimes I am at our food lab and others I'm out of the country buying our raw materials and as I've got a young family that can be difficult. But that kind of variety, and lack of routine, is something I love about the job, although I think it still comes second to the chocolate itself! The question I get asked most is whether

I get bored of chocolate. I've worked with it for a long time, and I've never felt I didn't want to eat it. In fact, I'll go home and eat some in the evening!

*Sample: échantillon / Muster

4. What does James think is a disadvantage of his job?

- A. He sometimes feels he has eaten too much chocolate.
- B. He finds it difficult to have a routine with his work.
- C. He has worked with the same product too long.
- D. He needs to be away from his family at times.

5. Which one would be an advert for the chocolate company James works for?

Every single bar of chocolate that leaves our factory is tested for its taste.

A.

We choose only the best ingredients - just chocolate beans, sugar and milk. We don't add anything else.

B.

We're proud of being so environmentally friendly - all our ingredients are bought from local businesses.

C.

We check everything that goes into our chocolate, so that you can enjoy the best chocolate possible.
